Henry Arthur Jones's New Play.

Labor Day Matines.

Jack Skelly, the ambitious and clever young things the atrical. Managers are making few eners and deplore the general stagnation of things theatrical. Managers are making few engagements, for the reason that so many of them will not begin their seasons until after the Presidential election. This causes a good deal of gloom, and many a fluttering heart the Presidential election. This causes a good deal of gloom, and many a fluttering heart wonders whether the long-suffering landlady can ever be made to understand that this seeming delay is purely a political one. The outlook for the coming season is, so far, not a many for any one of the country to try conclusions with the boxer from Long island. Th can ever be made to understand that this seeming delay is purely a political one. The outlook for the coming season is, so far, not a very bright one. The novolties are few. At the offices of the dramatic agents there is "nothing doing"—the usual information, by the bye, vouchsafed to actors when they call there. The lot of those who are obliged to hover around New York waiting for engages ments that do not come is trying. A consolation to the actors, however, lies in the thought that it is not their fault.

"Pather and Son" is the name of a new play being written by Henry Arthur Jones, suther of "Judah," "The Dancing Gir" and "The Crusadera." It will probably be a high-chais man or only playwright, well known in this country, is writing a pley for Mrs. Langtry.

Augustin Daly has been doing a great deal of quiet negotiation for a leading man to succeed John Drew. He made an offer to a young London actor, Acton Bond, now with Henry Irving. Mr. Bond, however, declined, and will remain where he is. It is now said that Mr. Daly has secured H. B. Conway, a young man who once played at the Lyceum Theatre in this city.

A London newspaper instead of announcing that Sarah, the immortal, appeared in "Leah," made it appear that she had presented "Lear." As irving has the latter play in contemplation, the newspaper in question got itself disliked.

The second annual race of the Cherry Dia-mond Yacht Club will be sailed on Saturday, July 23, on Long Island Sound off Haremont. Prizes will be offered in each class where two yachts start with full intention of com-pleting the causes, and in each class, where four or more yachts start, a second prize will be given. He has lost fifty-two pounds since he was last seen here, and points with pride to his belt, which registers unmistakably the departure of his avoirdupois. Arrangements were completed and articles stigned in the interests of his new play, "A Kentucky Colonel." In this he will play a strong character part. The piece, however, is not a one part affair, and the Kentucky Colonel, whom Rankin will impersonate, is not the hero.

It appears that Alexander Salvini, while crossing the Atlantic on the City of New York, worked every morning at his role in "The Heir of Graumont," Such energy as this should never go unrewarded. It is to be hoped that Salvini did not study aloud, and thus add to the horror of seasickness.

Hope Temple, whose delightful songs are known to most amateurs and professionals in this country, has written an operetta called "A Wooden Spoon" to a libratte by Gilbert Hurgess. It is to be done in London shortly. Miss Temple is the composer of "My Lady's Bower," in Sweet September, ""Mary Grey and a score of other songs.
